

INC-5.2 – Day 2 Highlights

- ◆ Strategy meeting by the Women’s Working Group on Ending Plastic Pollution
- ◆ Ongoing negotiations on the international plastics treaty
- ◆ WFAC continues tracking gender, justice, and human rights in the treaty process

Feminist Strategy in Action

The day began with a focused strategy meeting by the Women's Working Group on Ending Plastic Pollution.

- ◆ Alignment on key demands across the treaty text
- ◆ Reinforcing a gender-transformative, rights-based approach
- ◆ Coordinating inputs ahead of key negotiations

Deliberations in Progress

Participants reconvened to engage in discussions around key components of the treaty framework.

- ◆ Focus areas include foundational principles and obligations
- ◆ Momentum remains for strong global commitments
- ◆ Civil society advocates remain vocal on rights-based and inclusive approaches

Looking Ahead

As discussions progress, WFAC stays committed to:

- ◆ Elevating feminist and African youth perspectives
- ◆ Strengthening language on plastics' health and gender impacts
- ◆ Ensuring the treaty reflects lived realities and science

Stay with us for Day 3.

See You on #Day3